

Senate Calls Crim In Vets Bureau Probe

Two House Members Said to Have Accepted Money for Securing Pardons

DAUGHERTY IS INVOLVED

Charge High Officials Violated Liquor Laws and Used Official Information

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The special senate committee to investigate Attorney General Daugherty Wednesday called into private conference John W. Crim, Crim in charge of the Veterans bureau grand jury proceedings at Chicago.

Mr. Crim's advice was sought as to procedure toward securing information from the department of justice and elsewhere. Committee members want information about the two house members said to have taken money for securing pardons. This evidence was developed before the grand jury at Chicago.

It was suggested that Mr. Crim might be in a position to throw some light on the reason for Mr. Daugherty's appearance before the grand jury just before it reported.

GRAND JURY WILL ACT
White House officials said Wednesday that all phases of evidence adduced recently by the Chicago grand jury and not passed on there because of lack of jurisdiction had been gone to by the grand jury here.

The subjects expected to come under inquiry involve charges that one or more high officials used official information for purposes of speculation that liquor permits were wrongly procured through use of money, and that official government information was turned over to persons not entitled to them.

For the present no official will discuss details of these charges nor disclose in what direction the inquiry may lead. The development has created a stir in official circles however, second only to that which followed the oil scandal.

PREFERS GRAFT CHARGES
President Coolidge announced Tuesday night that the charges against the two members of the house, involving acceptance of money in connection with the release of federal prisoners, would be thoroughly investigated. The president said that the senate committee had held two sessions to consider the charges and a resolution for an investigation had been introduced into the house.

John W. H. Crim, who was in charge of the Chicago investigation has conferred with members of the senate and house, but he has declined to furnish them the names of those involved on any details taking the position that the evidence requires further development before any of it can be divulged. It was developed incidentally at Chicago in connection with the Veterans bureau inquiry that resulted in the indictment of Charles R. Forbes.

Mr. Crim also has reported the facts to the White House, leaving to President Coolidge the decision as to what action should be taken. Wednesday's announcement was interpreted as an indication that the executive was prepared to demand a complete sifting of the evidence regardless of who might be involved.

KU KLUX DEMANDS BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

By Associated Press
Salem, Ore.—Whether the schools of Greenford, a village in Mahoning county, will reopen after being closed by the resignation of the superintendent, the five teachers after a controversy over the bible reading in the schools, will be determined at a meeting of the school board Wednesday night.

The controversy began when three members of the board, whom Superintendent H. C. Seran charges are members of the K. K., urged that the bible be read in the schools each day. The superintendent said the school time was fully occupied, but suggested that the pupils come early twice a week for bible reading. This plan was agreed to and put into effect.

Later one of the alleged Klan members of the board charged that the bible reading was being neglected. Heated arguments arose and Mr. Seran and some of his teachers charged that the board members had neglected their duties.

The resignation of the superintendent and all of the teachers followed.

G. O. P. Lost Millions Of U. S. Wealth

By Associated Press
Kansas City, Mo.—The Republican national administration was charged with reducing the national wealth by $75,000,000 in an address at convention hall here Tuesday night by Matthew M. Neely, United States Senator from West Virginia. The senator also said the oil scandal not only belonged to the Republican party but that it "was in the White House."

Senator Neely asserted that when the late President Wilson left the office, the wealth of the nation was $800,000,000. Eighteen months of Republican rule, he said, has caused a reduction in the resources equivalent to a loss of $750,000,000, "every man, woman and child."

"The working man has lost seven millions," Senator Neely declared, "the merchant six billions and the farmer four billions in value."

The senator said he quoted government statistics. Depressing conditions he said had followed shrinkage of farm and farm product values.

WALL STREET BLAST CONFESSION FALSE

Man Who Claims Part in Bombing Was in San Quentin
in 1920

New York—Whatever hopes the New York police had of solving the mystery of the famous Wall Street explosion through the reported confession of Ralph Thibault vanished Wednesday when the police were advised that Thibault was in San Quentin penitentiary, Calif., when the explosion occurred.

Thibault's story, which was made known to District Attorney Banton through a telegram to Governor Smith, was questioned by detectives after they had failed to find the address of two men whom Thibault, in an affidavit in a London prison, had implicated in the explosion.

Reports from other cities, the police said indicated that other details in the confession were valueless.

Thibault's address, says, was sentenced to San Quentin prison in February 1920 for a three-year term. He was released two years later. The Wall Street explosion which killed 30 persons and injured scores, occurred on September 18, 1920.

Messages from London said Thibault had made his confession to the American consul general in London and that official sent it to Secretary Hughes who forwarded it to Governor Smith. The latter, in turn got in touch with District Attorney Banton, who ordered an immediate check up.

Ex-Bar Tender In Oil Scandal

Washington—John F. Major was a good bartender 20 years ago and now he has come into his reward—to shine in the Senate oil investigating committee's galaxy of stars.

He shines with a reflected light, perhaps—the reflection of his boss, Edward B. McLean, the millionaire newspaper owner who made a $100,000 loan to the then secretary of the interior, Albert B. Fall, and then got his check back unaltered, stirring up the most intense curiosity.

But it's a pretty bright reflected light, for all that.

McLean got to know Major across the bar of Shoemaker's saloon, celebrated in Washington in preprohibition days.

The young newspaper man liked the genial disposition of drinks and one day he offered him a job, at a big advance in pay, on the Washington

Michigan Conservation Commissioner Offers to Prove Existence of Protege

By Associated Press
Lansing, Mich.—One who doubts the existence of the "Hiram Johnson" whose name was certified for the Michigan presidential primary election and then ordered stricken from the ballot may have visual proof that he lives by accompanying John Baird, state conservation commissioner, into the swamps of Zilwaukee township next Saturday.

Baird hurled this challenge to the skeptics Wednesday. He said at the same time that newspapermen learned that a "Hiram Johnson" who lived in the same neighborhood as Baird's "Zilwaukee Hiram" died last July and was buried in a Bay City cemetery.

"Be at my farm in Zilwaukee at 10 sharp Saturday morning," he said "and be sure to wear your hunting clothes. It is six miles from my place to Milburn, where Johnson lives, and there is no road. We will walk through swamp land most of the way, inasmuch as I generally take zig zag course, we probably will travel a lot more than six miles before we find the man we are looking for."

Baird Wednesday said he filed the Johnson nomination because I wanted to show that the Michigan presidential preferential primary law is a joke. "Johnson consented to 'run,' Baird said, saving it would be 'fun to see my name in the papers.' 'Zilwaukee Hiram' made Baird promise the commissioner said that he would have to make no speeches.

REED DEPENDS ON STATE DELEGATION

Missouri Candidate for President Repels Anonymous Attacks

Mexico, Mo.—Senator J. A. Reed, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in an address Tuesday night repelled from his usual custom of ignoring questions submitted by his Missouri Democratic opponents and replied to an anonymous circular distributed at the meeting.

"These cowards who dare not sign their names," Reed replied "ask me if I will give you the delegation to the national convention and you cannot get the nomination, to whom will you throw your support, William Randolph Hearst, or Al Smith?"

If Missouri's delegation goes to the national convention instructed for me," Reed said, "I will vote for me to the last ballot and I expect to be nominated on that ballot."

"They also ask me," continued Reed, "Did I oppose the federal reserve law?" "No," replied the senator. "I made it. It came from the president, a poor, weak thing. We amended it 561 times."

ALLIES FAVOR PLAN FOR CIVIL CONTROL

Council of Ambassadors Urges Demilitarization of Commission in Germany

By Associated Press
Paris—The demilitarization of the Allied Military Control Commission in Germany was practically decided upon by the Allied Council of Ambassadors Wednesday. At a session attended by Marshal Foch and with the United States represented by Sheldon Whitehouse, counselor of the American embassy, the ambassadors received a favorable opinion from the Interallied Military committee as to the suggestion made by Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain that the present military mission be ultimately succeeded by the allied committee on guarantees.

Considerable significance is attached to this decision, apart from its bearing upon the relations between the allies and Germany. It is the first suggestion of the new British Labor cabinet to be accepted and acted upon by the allied council.

The decision means that the control of Germany's military preparations will be exercised by civilians instead of by army officers, although the intention is not by any means to relinquish the control.

The ambassadors adopted the text of a resolution on this subject which will be forwarded in the German government Wednesday night or Thursday.

San Francisco Lawyer Said to Be Conducting Litigation in California

HOUSE, SENATE APPROVE

Investigation Committee Seeks Identity of "Principal" of Telegrams

Washington, D. C.—While the oil committee was obtaining more important information in a private examination of telegrams Wednesday, opposition developed to the confirmation of Samuel Knight, of San Francisco to be special government counsel in the litigation for the recovery of California oil lands from the Standard Oil Co. of California.

Senator Walsh of Montana, prosecutor of the oil inquiry, announced that Mr. Knight is counsel for the Eoulatie Trust Co. of New York which is a Rockefeller bank.

According to information Senator Walsh said, Mr. Knight now is engaged in litigation for that bank in California. He added that if the story proved correct it would be a basis for opposing confirmation by the senate.

Mr. Knight was selected by President Coolidge to bring action under a resolution offered by Senator Walsh and unanimously adopted by both the house and senate. Senator Walsh was not consulted in the selection.

SEEK "PRINCIPAL"
Forgoing its usual public hearing to examine telegraph records sent here from Palm Beach the oil committee Wednesday found further reference to the "principal" mentioned in one of the McLean telegrams previously read in the record.

Some committee members said they regarded these telegrams as of possible high importance. Every effort will be made to establish the identity of the "principal" mentioned in the telegrams.

To E. Bennett, an editor-at-large of the Washington Post, was the author of one of the "principal" messages sent from Washington, Jan. 23, to Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Post. The committee has information that the reference was not to Attorney General Daugherty as he had been in Florida at that time.

The Bennett message said there would be "no locking of the boat and no resignations" and added that the "principal" was expecting a reaction from political attacks by McLean.

GENERAL "DRAGNET" USED
The messages examined Wednesday, more than half a hundred of which will be read into the record at a public hearing Thursday were received under a general "dragnet" subpoena issued for all messages received at Palm Beach by McLean, Albert B. Fall and McLean's employee. Some of the telegrams were sent from Chicago and other cities.

Committee members said there was no record of any telegraphic communication between Fall and E. L. Doherty while the former interior secretary was in Florida. The telegrams received later by Fall at New Orleans have not yet been furnished to the committee.

There also was furnished to the committee the copy of the telegram sent to McLean by Chairman Lenora advising him officially that Senator Walsh was leaving for Palm Beach with full authority to question the publisher and to subpoena other persons he might desire to call. This telegram was not found in the batch delivered by the Washington office of the Western Union Telegraph Co.

COUNCIL STUDIES BIG PROBLEMS AT MEETING TONIGHT

Creation of New Wards and Union School System Up
For Discussion

The proposed union school system, creation of new wards and combining of the office of a county supervisor with that of one alderman are legislative measures that will be discussed in the meeting of the city common council at 7:30 Wednesday evening in the city hall.

Theodore Berg, city attorney, had been requested to prepare a legal opinion on the procedure of adopting a union system of schools in Appleton to supplant the district system now in disuse in most American cities. It was questioned whether the council had authority to consolidate the districts or whether this matter must be decided by a referendum vote of the four existing districts.

The question of creating more wards in Appleton which has been the subject of agitation here for some time is raised with the view of creating more office of county supervisors so as to secure greater representation for Appleton on the county board. A committee of aldermen was appointed to study the question and to report on the possibility of the aldermen to serve also as a supervisor on the county board. The committee was instructed to report at tonight's meeting.

Other important committee reports are expected. Several proposed ordinances had been referred to the committee on ordinances, two of them proposing a street numbering system.

BERLIN CHURCH IS ROBBED OF ROOF

By Associated Press

Berlin—Stealing of metal articles of every description became so prevalent in Berlin that officials were fearful that all the bronze statues in the parks would be taken, consequently they were removed to places of safety.

This form of robbery began when one of a group of boxers was saved off. The metal then was cut into small pieces and sold to junk dealers.

The theft was traced to two men, who, it was learned, were assisted by their wives and children. The scheme proved so profitable that their relatives and friends engaged in the operations. Metal articles have been stolen from churches, cemeteries and railroad trains and in one instance the copper roof of a church was carried away.

The owners of new houses are having the copper waste water pipes concealed in the walls of the first floor in order to keep them out of reach of the metal thieves. Twenty suspects are under arrest.

CABBAGE PRICES GOING UP AS 1923 CROP IS MARKETING

County Warehouses Are Empty, Buyers Say—No Change in Acreage

According to a local buyer, the 1923 cabbage crop of Outagamie-co has been marketed and practically all the storage houses are empty. He said so far as he could learn growers retained only enough for their immediate needs.

The big cleanup was made during the recent cold weather and while marketing was made difficult because cars had to be heated, the unloading was opportune as the mild weather and accompanying slump in price were avoided.

According to market reports, old cabbage is not only scarce in Outagamie-co, but is scarce throughout the state. This has caused an advance in price. Outagamie-co buyers plan to get their supply on the Chicago market before the new cabbage from the south begins to arrive, but do not expect a big change.

USUAL ACREAGE

Outagamie-co growers are planning about the usual acreage again this coming season and most of them have purchased their seed. By pooling their interests and growing their own seed, members of Outagamie County Cabbage Growers' association were in position to procure their seed at a considerable reduction in price.

Cabbage has become a standard crop with many farmers in Fox river valley who play safe by raising a certain number of acres each year regardless of the price. In this way they strike the good years as well as the bad ones.

ON THE SCREEN

"THE KNIFE" PRESENTS A VITAL, PERTINENT REFORM, WELL SURROUNDED BY STIRRING MELODRAMA

As Kate Tarleton in "The Knife," adapted from Eugene Walter's dramatic success of the same name by Charles Maigne and directed by Robert C. Vignola, Alice Brady will be the attraction at the New Bijou theatre today and Thursday.

Kate is a southern girl on a visit to New York, where her interest in fortune tellers leads her into a trap disguised as a clairvoyant's establishment, where she is drugged and imprisoned. Her lover and guardian, Dr. Robert Manning, famed for his surgical researches, finally finds her there, and wreaks his vengeance on the villainous pair who are responsible for his fiancée's predicament by using them as subjects for his experimentation. Later, Kate is restored to health, and although at first she recalls nothing of her life before she was drugged, it all comes back to her soon after, and she feels herself unworthy of Manning's love. He reassures her, however, and they decide to pass their lives together in the placid surroundings of her Southern home.

A gripping photoplay with real heart-interest superbly cast and splendidly produced in Southern and metropolitan settings—a worthy successor to Alice Brady's other triumphs.

LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

In this age of flappers, and jazz and the upsetting of all traditions, the sight of an old-fashioned girl—one of a hundred years ago with her winsome, modest charm and her feminine ruffles and frills, is a refreshing sight. Marion Davies brought such a role to the screen at the Elite theatre today with her Patricia O'Day in Cosmopolitan's new production "Little Old New York." Her Patricia is a thing of gaiety, fun and charm, but also has the shyness and reserve which characterized the girl of long ago and made her so alluring.

In this delightful screen story which was adapted by Luther Reed from Rida Johnson Young's highly successful stage play, Miss Davies has another big role which is a worthy follow-up for her Princess Mary Tudor

LITTLE JOE

A COMMUTER SAID THAT, JUST AS HIS HOLIDAY, GROUCH BEGAN TO WEAR OFF HE RECEIVED A PICTURE OF A MALE MOVIE STAR AS A BIRTHDAY PRESENT.

In "When Knighthood Was In Flower." The role of Patricia is perhaps more difficult than that of Princess Mary to act, in that it is more simply human and requires even more finesse and delicacy in the handling. Certainly Miss Davies has never been seen to better advantage, has never acted more naturally and effectively, nor transferred to the screen more of charm and beauty.

"Little Old New York" was directed by Sidney Olcott, one of the ablest writers of the megaphone in the industry, and the settings were designed by Joseph Urban, noted designer of stage and grand opera sets, and a painter of international repute. The production is one of the finest and most interesting which has yet been made, and it gives Miss Davies a chance to prove what a capable artist she is.

DANIELSON COMING TO ASSIST ALIENS

March 10 is Last Day for Filing Citizenship Petitions for June Hearing

Monday, March 10, will be the last date on which petitions can be filed for the citizenship hearing in circuit court next June, as 90 days must elapse between the date of filing and the hearing.

To assist petitioners for citizenship who desire a hearing on their applications for second papers at the June hearing, George N. Danielson, United States naturalization examiner, will be in the office of Harry A. Shannon, clerk of circuit court, Monday.

Any person who has a first paper more than two years old and not over seven years old, may appear on March 10 with but two witnesses who are citizens and who have known him for five years. In filing his petition for citizenship he must bring his first papers along.

If such alien arrived in the United States after June 22, 1908, he must first procure a certificate of arrival, by using a blank form which will be furnished by Harry A. Shannon, clerk of court. The applicant does not need witnesses to procure this blank, according to Examiner Danielson.

Any American born woman who lost her citizenship by marriage to an alien may appear and file her petition without a first paper.

NO DANGER OF OVERDOING

There has been considerable talk about hysteria at Washington, in connection with the investigations in progress. Undoubtedly there has been exaggeration of wrongdoing, but that does not mean that venality will be over-investigated. The chances are that it will be under-investigated. Only a part of the evil conditions at the national capital will be brought to light. Enough has been disclosed of powerful influences at work to cover up scandal to prove that the few courageous men on whom the burden of investigation rests have their hands more than full. Had it not been for the unyielding determination of Senator Walsh to get at the truth of the oil leases that sickening episode would have been whitewashed.

The cry of hysteria and of lynching honest men is the familiar smokescreen thrown out in all such cases. Washington is shown to be a hotbed of greed, corruption and official faithfulness. Many of its most influential political figures, while not themselves tainted, are willing to shield those who have been prostituting government to selfish and corrupt ends. The hysteria there has consisted mostly of a wild scramble for favors and loot. Leaders in whom the public had long since lost confidence because of suspicious significance surrounding their acts and policies are the apologists for and protectors of the vicious conditions which honest men are trying to uncover.

The revelations leave the public in a bewildered state of mind. It does not know whom it can trust. Its faith in government is being undermined. In the absence of full exposures all along the line, in the absence of guilt established and punished, this loss of faith will not be restored. Should there be fruitless investigations they will be regarded as white-washes. The public will not be convinced. There never has been a time when the full light of day was so badly needed to show up the dark places of Washington as today. The so-called hysteria is abundantly justified. It is only in an atmosphere of agitation and focused public attention that the truth can be learned. There is no danger of congressional or other investigating bodies going too far. The danger is that they will fall short.

If radicalism is not to supplant constitutional government the dwelling of state must be housecleaned, ventilated and fumigated. Privilege and exploitation must be carded and canned. The Old Guard must be routed. There can not be too much stirring of the mess, for only then will the dross come to the surface, nor can there be any relaxation of public vigilance. There can be no half way measures if there is to be genuine reform and adequate retribution. The future of our political system is very much at stake. The time has come to strike a staggering blow at the sinister and invisible forces of government, and to get rid of public servants who believe in that kind of government. If this is not done by responsible men in an orderly way, it will be done by ruthless and irresponsible reformers.

MODERN LIFE

The Twentieth Century Limited "burns up" an engine every 135 miles. That is all the "Century" can prudently get out of a locomotive. After being speeded to the limit for 135 miles the engine is exhausted and the train has to stop while a fresh engine is hooked on. The tired locomotive is left behind for overhauling.

This is a very clear-cut picture of modern life and the way it "wears out" all of us. Our generation is almost insane in its desire for speed. At every turn the average man encounters people or situations or system existing for the sole purpose of speeding him up. In other words, the desire and purpose is to "burn him out" as fast as possible. Well, perhaps that is not the desire, but the net result is the same.

Modern life is like the Twentieth Century Limited. Of course, 100 years from now it will not make any difference whether the passengers arrived at destination ahead of time or a week behind it. But we are living now, not 100 years hence, and so we are victims of the system. Business is a lemon squeezer. Get the juice, get it fast, then throw the remains of the lemon away and reach for a new lemon.

This system of taking a man and burning him up quickly is as bad for his employer as for the man himself, because the available supply of men worth burning up is limited, the same as there is a limited supply of engines capable of hauling the Twentieth Century. Wise employers, men with perspective, realize this.

MACDONALD VS. POINCARE

When Prime Minister MacDonald tells Premier Poincare that the people of England "regard with anxiety what appears to be the determination of France to ruin Germany and dominate the continent without consideration of our reasonable interests and future consequences to a European settlement; that they feel apprehension of the large military and aerial establishment maintained by France," he is getting down to the kind of diplomacy the world wants to see. This is going to the heart of the matter. And it is worth reams of polished notes that beat about the bush and display only half purposes.

Mr. MacDonald tells France exactly what he thinks of French policy. M. Poincare's reply is not as specific, but the fact that he suggested publication of the correspondence is not without meaning. The impression prevails that MacDonald has struck a powerful blow at a policy which the people of France themselves are preparing to abandon or to modify. It expresses very much the opinion held by the socialists and liberals of France, and may be expected to strengthen their campaign against Poincare. In a measure it helps to prepare France for acceptance of the findings and recommendations of the Dawes committee. It certainly clarifies the European atmosphere.

The British labor government is adopting a strong foreign policy. Its bluntness and frankness ought to be more conducive to peace and right understanding than the old diplomacy. It is the right method to dispel suspicion and to restore Anglo-French friendship. The duration of the British labor government is likely to hinge more upon the success of its foreign policies than upon its domestic program, and thus far it has kept itself well in hand and has moved on solid ground in approaching a difficult and complicated international situation.

TODAY'S POEM

By Berton Braloy

BACHELOR AND BENEDICT

Poor Bill, he leads a humdrum life,
He hardly gets a bit of freedom.
He has four children and a wife,
It makes him hump to clothe and feed 'em.
His worries never seem to cease,
At home those noisy kids beat him;
And if to seek a nap in peace,
They will not let him.

It's very seldom he gets out,
Once in a month of Sundays, maybe;
And when he does he frots about
The older children and the baby.
He cannot call his soul his own,
His slavery is something arrant,
His state of mind is clearly shown
And that's—a parent.

Yet I recall when he, like me,
Could go and come as struck his fancy,
When he was burdenless and free
For any game—however chancy.
But now he cannot play around,
He cannot join our merry revel;
To home and family he's bound—
The lucky devil!

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

REMARKABLE THEY WORK AT ALL

Physicians ought to lay down as a canon of sound and healthful eating that the bowls can and will act daily and naturally. It's naturally I mean without medication or extraneous help. The foregoing paragraph I lifted almost bodily from an article by a British medical practitioner in a recent number of the Medical Press and Circular, London. The author may be a Harley street specialist for all I know, and no doubt an eminent one.

To go on retreating, our presumably eminent and therefore probably Harley street specialist, after running along for four pages in that fashion, gets off a half page paragraph which I should like to quote in full but must perforce contract somewhat: "All food must be nourishing and digestible." Here is where I cross swords with present practice. Why, when nature points out that the time has come for a change of diet, should we direct the contrary? All food ought to contain a considerable portion of indigestible substances, for it is this part of the ingesta which passes through the entire length of the alimentary tube and acts as a gentle stimulus. The contents of the colon ought to be indigestible and bulky. We find, however, that as much as possible of those things that are considered indigestible are rigidly and purposely excluded from the diet of all young children. I refer principally to the skins of fruits and vegetables—for example, of apple and potato, the stalks of vegetables, for example cabbage, the skins of animals, and such like things, whereas in every case they ought to be included. We find that young children are not allowed to eat hard food because, forsooth, they would damage their teeth, whereas under the present regime we seldom discover a child with sound teeth, though all teeth are sound when they first appear. Further, as a result of want of use of the muscles of the jaw, the mouth and throat do not develop as they should, the throat becomes too easily blocked with thickened adenoids or tonsil tissue and nasal breathing is impeded. We find that these children are constantly dozing. . . .

Ain't it the truth!
Hippocrates was one of the first physicians to decry the physic habit. He said, quite a while before I began to discourage it, "A healthy man who takes himself does himself as much harm as he would by taking bad food." The father of medicine also taught that doctors who purged their patients on the old days of the month killed them!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Concealing White Spots

Recently you gave a coloring or paint for concealing white spots caused by loss of pigment. Does it color the white spots the natural color of the skin, or the natural skin white? (Mrs. B. J. P.)

Answer.—It is a temporary paint which colors the white spots to match the normal skin. The only way such a spot may be permanently concealed is by tattooing it to match the surrounding normal skin. The paint consists of—five ingredients, count 'em, 5, let me repeat there are or should be 5, five, 5 ingredients, as many as you have digits on one hand, assuming that you have had no amputations.

1—Glycerin Teaspoonful
2—Zinc oxide Two teaspoonfuls
3—Culamin Two teaspoonfuls
4—Water Four ounces
5—Icthyol—to be added drop by drop till tint matches skin. Usually a teaspoonful or less is required.

Beef Tea

Please inform me what nourishment there is in beef tea? (C. L.)
Answer.—Clear beef tea, or beef broth, is often beneficial as a mild stimulant, both for the appetite and digestion and for the general system. The stimulant is due to the extractives in it. Home-made beef tea usually contains a little fat, which is of course very nourishing.

Sleep for Children

How many hours should a boy aged 3 1/2 years sleep? (Miss J. J.)
Answer.—Twelve hours. If he doesn't get 12 hours of sleep every night, he should have a regular afternoon nap, and not a bad plan for a child of that age to have the nap as a habit anyhow. (Copyright, National Newspaper Service.)

FINIS

I had some stock,
From out of which
I looked for rocks
To make me rich;
There was a crash,
The boom went flat;
I lost my cash—
And that was that.
I dreamed of fame, I thought I'd make a wondrous name and no mistake!
Within the ring I cast my hat;
Fate hit me—bing! And that was that.
I loved a girl,
My head and heart
Were in a whirl
Right from the start;
She was a guy
Gray, old and fat;
I heaved a sigh—
And that was that.
So, to rehearse, What went amiss,
I wrote a verse—and that was this!
Time your overcoat was paid for,
Spring suits are on the market.
—Barton Braloy.

The trouble with a mild winter is that it seems to take about just as much coal as a cold winter, and on top of the fuel bills you also are liable to be flirting with the doctor bills.

ROLLO—Scientists tell us that the moon is 240,000 miles away. But your "Ex-Enforcement Officer" whose interview was published a few days ago, seems to tell us that the moonshine is much closer—to Appleton at least.

WITHOUT A SILVER LINING

Dear Rollo: You may inform the psychologist that love not only is blind, but that there is one J. J. P. whose eyes are so bedazzled with dreams, he can't even see the lady of his heart's desire. He passed right by her after paying his fare in the street car and "slumbered" for five minutes before he realized his heart pit-a-pats were going to a fat old lady sitting next to him.

—May Trimony.

Houdini, the Appleton magician, is going about lecturing. If the magician business is slack, he can find some work in Washington showing politicians how to crawl out of their troubles.

Serbs Making
Belgrade Into
Elegant Capital

(Lathrop Stoddard in Scribner's.)

The first sight of Belgrade is distinctly impressive. Grinding along over the Slavonian flatlands, the train gradually raises a range of hills on the southern horizon. Suddenly from between the clumps of trees and shrubs that fringe the railway line, one gets a perspective across a flat alluvial plain and a broad river, behind which rise bluffs crowned by a large town with hills in the further background. That is "Beo-Grad"—"The White City" as it is most appropriately named, since most of its buildings are light-colored stucco or stone.

Emerging from the railway station, the eastern atmosphere hits you in the eye—and the nose. My first impression was that of a large, ill-defined and ill-paved open space, casually fringed by nondescript structures and peppered with people most swartzy and decidedly heterogeneous in appearance.

Some were in queer peasant costumes, others were picturesquely ragged, while everywhere there was a strong sprinkling of soldiers. At one point a knot of men were squatting about a small fire, their dark faces picked out by the firelight against the gathering dusk. Entering my carriage, I was jolted over atrocious pavements to a brand new and very ugly hotel.

There you have the spirit of present-day Belgrade; patches of glaring "westernism" parted crudely on a Balkan background. And the queer part of it is that the patches, numerous though they be, merely emphasize Belgrade's fundamental "Balkan-ism." The city is in fact going through an acute transition period. A decade ago it was the seat of a small Balkan state. Today it is the capital of Jug-Slovakia—a nation stretching from the head of the Adriatic almost to the Aegean sea, with an area considerably larger than Great Britain's and with fully 12,000,000 population.

Slated by their good fortune, the Serbs have been doing their best to make Belgrade a big modern capital. They are doing a tremendous amount of building, new five and six-story structures rising on every side. In fact, they have overbuilt, the economic depression today prevailing over all Europe having hit Belgrade hard and plunged it deeply into debt.

Dictionary Not Completed Yet

(From Answers, London.)
Dr. Johnson spent eight years on the completion of his famous lexicon, but the New English Dictionary, which is approaching completion, has been in the making for 60 years.

In that time probably seven tons of quotations have been collected, and as a ton of quotations contains about 1,000,000 slips it is not difficult to arrive at the grand total of 7,000,000 separate quotations illustrating uses of words.

These quotations represent at least 100,000 books searched, people all over

Q. Please describe the plan of the cathedral in which Woodrow Wilson's body is entombed and tell its denomination. C.G.P.

A. This Episcopal Cathedral is called the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul and is situated at Wisconsin Ave., and Woodley Road, Washington, D.C. It is as yet incomplete, but is being built in Gothic style and ranks in length with the Cathedrals of Canterbury and York and suggests the mighty Durham in its beauty.

Q. What hours and days is the White House open to visitors? F.K.

A. It is open to visitors from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. every day except Sunday.

Q. What color is the Egyptian lotus? C.M.P.

A. It is white. The lotus was the symbol of the rising again of the sun.

Q. How many letters does the Pope receive? H.A.P.

A. It is said that he receives about 22,000 pieces of mail a day. Twenty five secretaries are necessary to handle it.

Q. How many members of Congress have at some time practiced law? A. B.

A. A recent survey placed the number of lawyers in the Senate as 58; House 255.

Q. Will frozen milk make children sick? H.C.

A. The Authorities say that when milk freezes the solids and the watery substance separate, giving it an insipid taste, but there is no chemical change, and they therefore see no reason why such milk should make children ill.

Q. Is the Salvation Army active in India? A.L.

A. The Salvation Army has 3,000 stations in India carrying on its work in more than 4,000 villages. General Bramwell is especially interested in the convict settlement of 2,000 families in the Telugu country.

Q. Is there an inheritance tax in the city of Washington? C. B.

A. There is no inheritance tax in the District of Columbia, but the general Federal tax applies there as elsewhere.

Q. How are phonograph records made? W.D.D.

A. In making phonograph records, the recording apparatus and the operator are placed on one side of a horn and the artists on the other. A funnel or horn extends through a screen and concentrates the sound waves on the diaphragm of the recorder. A wax record is rotated at a speed of 78 revolutions per minute and receives the impressions of the recording needle as the artist sings or plays into the horn. When several instruments or singers are recording the recording instrument imparts the form corresponding to the complex sound wave produced by all the sounds combined. A plaster cast is made of the original wax record. It is dusted with graphite and electroplated until a copper record about nine millimeters thick is formed. This is the master record. Working "negatives" are made from it by taking wax impressions of it and copper electroplates in turn from them. They are nickel plated and polished and then used for pressing out commercial records by means of an hydraulic press. Commercial records contain shellac and finely powdered wool charcoal, barium sulphate, earthy coloring matters and cotton flock.

U.S. Must Decide
Immigrant Need

(Kenneth S. Roberts in The Saturday Evening Post.)

More than 800,000 immigrants entered America last year, a large number of them from backward countries whose governments are bad and whose theories of government are worse.

Where are those immigrants? What happened to them? What effect did they have on the localities where they ultimately settled?

Nobody knows these things and yet they are certainly worth knowing. The people of the United States ought to know them. They ought to have known about the millions that poured in each year prior to the war.

Not to know these things has been criminal folly for they have a direct bearing on the future soundness and prosperity of America and the American people.

America has left it entirely to the alien to fill the needs of America, but the country can never expect the correct answer so long as it is left even in part to the most ignorant and backward countries of Europe to say who shall populate America and breed Americans of the future.

The need of America can be discovered only by a group or organization of responsible and trustworthy Americans definitely selected for the purpose of discovering the country's needs.

COUNCIL PREPARES TO ASK FOR BIDS ON PAVING PROJECT

Kaukauna Aldermen Plan Paving of Two Streets This Summer

Kaukauna—A resolution authorizing the board of public works to prepare plans and specifications for two kinds of pavement having concrete foundation for Dodge-st was adopted at the monthly meeting of the common council Tuesday evening in the council chambers. The city attorney was authorized to draft a resolution providing for a city nurse. In addition a motion was carried to ask the city banks to submit sealed bids for interest payable on city funds during the year beginning May 4.

The Dodge-st project is to be paid for by the county but the work will be done by the city in connection with the Wisconsin-ave project. A special meeting of the board of public works will be held Thursday evening and the plans and specifications then adopted will be brought before the council at a special meeting Friday evening. The object will be to advertise for bids to be opened on March 25, the same time the Wisconsin-ave bids are opened. One contract for the entire work then will be let.

MATTER OF RECORD

The purpose of passing a resolution creating the office of city nurse will be merely to have the matter on record. Kaukauna has had an active city nurse for some time but she has had no direct supervision and no provision had been made for appointments in case of vacancies. The matter will be fully covered in the resolution.

The monthly reports of city officials and departments were adopted and ordered placed on file. Attention was called to the report of the city treasurer relative to his distribution of city funds.

The report of the treasurer showed that one bank has been receiving practically all the deposits. The chairman of the finance committee was authorized to order the treasurer to equally divide the deposits among the three banks.

HOLD BABY CLINIC SATURDAY MORNING

KAUKAUNA EAGER FOR LEAGUE BALL

Electric City Will Send Representatives to League Meeting in Appleton

Kaukauna—Ardent baseball magistrates will represent the Electric City at the meeting of members of last year's valley league Thursday in Appleton. Although Kaukauna is smaller than any other city in the circuit, local magistrates are interested in holding their place in the wheel and will do their best to maintain the league.

It is rumored that several clubs want a change and league baseball prospects in general in this neck of the woods are said to be uncertain. Kaukauna is ready to agree to any method of baseball which will suit the entire group, be it Sunday and holiday playing or every day baseball. While it is practically certain that every day ball or four day a week ball will not be a paying proposition especially in Kaukauna, the local fans indicated that they will follow the decision of the league.

Oriental Party Is Given For Miss Oestreich

New London—A truly oriental setting characterized the party in honor of Miss Carolyn Oestreich at the home of Miss Ismae Stoffer Sunday evening. The fragrance of burning incense, the subdued light from varicolored Japanese lanterns, the tasteful arrangement of Japanese parasols, bits of Japanese pottery and huge bunches of yellow and white chrysanthemums in Japanese vases, created an atmosphere thoroughly oriental.

A five o'clock tea was served at small tables in the living room. Place cards in Japanese characters and other distinctive touches decorated the tables, and Miss Dorothy Bentz, in Chinese costume, served the tea. The sandwiches were cleverly cut and decorated to represent the various characters in a Mah Jongg set.

The evening was spent in playing Mah Jongg. The hostesses were Miss Ismae Stoffer, Miss Nita Cuff and Miss Lena Bentz. Guests were the Mesdames H. S. Ritchie, E. F. Ramm, Carlton Reuter, Edward Zillmer, Ron Hartquist and J. P. Bentz and the Misses Cordelle Freidinger, Melba Pelzer, Lorraine Knapstein, Lorena Oestreich, Alze Leonardson, Phoebe Kimball, Gladys Williams, Florence O'Brien and Barbara Schaller.

Miss Jane Bentz in costume acted as messenger in the presentation to the guest of honor of a Japanese tray and tea set.

WAUSAU SUFFERS $100,000 BLAZE

Wausau—Fire broke out in the basement of the Sell Brothers Hardware company, Jefferson street, Monday afternoon, and gutted the building, destroying the entire stock of hardware, valued at $25,000, and also destroying property of tenants on second floor summing up a loss of nearly $100,000.

The buildings were valued at $50,000. The tenants on the second floor were Bird, Okoneski and Puchner, lawyers; the Wausau Sand and Gravel company, the Wausau Concrete company and Andrews & Early, lumber brokers. A defective heating system was the probable cause. The fire spread so rapidly that the occupants had only time to flee from their offices. The building was of solid brick structure and adjoins other business blocks as well as the First National bank.

FIRE AT SHEBOYGAN Sheboygan—Wet, heavy snow saved two blocks of the downtown section of Sheboygan Monday night, when the D. and D. Hanger, Panel and Glue company's factory was destroyed by fire which started from spontaneous combustion. The loss is estimated, may reach $75,000. The company manufactures garment hangers and furniture specialties. It was operating in the building in which the Kohler company, Vollrath company and other Sheboygan manufacturing concerns were born.

JEALOUSY, FEAR, BLAMED FOR LAW STOPPING FISHING

Consider Petition for Special Legislative Session to Change Law

Shall hook and line fishermen of the Fox river valley be made to suffer for the mistake of the framers of the revised fishing law which forbids all hook and line fishing in the state between March 1 and June 1, or shall they take legal steps to invalidate the law as far as it concerns the valley?

These are questions troubling the members of the Fish and Game Protective Association of the Fox river valley, recently organized. The ban on hook and line fishing in Lake Winnebago and tributary waters during the spring month into the statutes entirely by a misapprehension, according to the association.

Some of the framers of the law, there is a belief that other legislators were aware of what they were voting for and did so because of jealousy of the special privileges which fishermen in the Fox river valley had received in the past.

Members of the association feel that petitions should be circulated for a special meeting of the state legislature to amend the fish law. Others feel that legal procedure should be begun in the form of an injunction restraining the conservation commission from enforcing that part of the law prohibiting hook and line fishing in the spring months of March, April and May. Still others suggest that matters be allowed to take their course, depending upon public sentiment to influence juries to acquit any person arrested on the charge of hook and line fishing during the forbidden months.

Fellowship of Prayer

ASH WEDNESDAY The Temptation and Decision of Jesus

Read Mt. 4:1-11. Text: 4:10. Then with Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve.

"Jesus' religious experience with the will of God was a growth, as is ours, and as all real human experience must be. He faced uncertainties that called for moral adventure, for experiment as a means of attaining experience and character. Character for him, as for us, came by thinking and living his way through difficult problems, by going forward when he could not see far ahead, by feeling the tremendous pull of temptation and resisting it."

MEDITATION: When Jesus realized that he possessed great power the question which forced itself upon his attention was: How shall this great possession be used? He was so close to God and God had revealed his will to him so clearly that he decided once for all time to use his power for the eternal good of men.

PERSONAL QUESTION: How am I tempted today?

PRAYER: O Thou strong Son of God, who was tempted to the utmost and did not sin, be Thou our help and stay. We look to thee for strength and guidance. Thou knowest how much we need thee. O, abide with us. Amen.

Former Mayor Enthusiastic Over Seattle's Climate

Former Mayor J. A. Hawes is spending the winter at Seattle, Wash., with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Doering, who reside in University district, 1902 East McGraw-st., in what is known as Inter-Laken. Inter-Laken gets this name because through it for the reason passes a deep boat canal between Lake Washington and Lake Union and connecting with Puget Sound. The locks are said to be next in size to those of Panama.

"Lake Washington is nearly as large as our Lake Winnebago," Mr. Hawes writes, "and its short line together with that of Lake Union nearly surrounds the city of Seattle which has a population of 350,000 and is growing at the rate of 20,000 a year since the war. Seattle is also nearly surrounded by high bluffs covered with terraces and native evergreen trees which add a wonderful touch of color to the city at this season of the year."

"Lawn shrubbery areas green as in summer as there is no snow or frost to disturb them and the constant moisture in the form of heavy dew at night and frequent light warm showers produces vegetation condition about like our June in Wisconsin."

"Just now many spring flowers are in bloom, in the yards and the effect contrasting with the many varieties of shrubs and evergreen which are not hardly with us is most gorgeous and a riot of color."

"Seattle is a wonderfully beautiful city and has an all the year around climate that is seldom equaled or surpassed in the United States. It is not a winter resort for eastern and midwest tourists as the sun is not so bright and hot as in California. There are no automobile tourists here at present. Only the local people living here and the trading population from surrounding cities are seen on the streets and in the stores."

"The tourists, thousands of them, arrive by rail and boat. There are eight continental railways and hundreds of steamships arrive here daily transferring passengers to the Orient, Alaska, California and back east. The streets and stores are alive with people who look healthy, contented and well to do. The absence of bright hot sun and wind is very conducive to ruddy complexions instead of the yellow tan of warmer climates."

"BUSINESS IS GOOD"

"Business conditions here appear well balanced as to agriculture, industry, fruit raising, mining, lumbering and merchandising. There apparently is no unemployment. Wages are high, plenty of money in circulation, no strikes, people contented and the building trades busy the year around.

"There are many large business blocks and apartment houses in process of construction and hundreds of new homes. Buildings go up much more rapidly than in Wisconsin. Housing conditions are good, rents reasonable, and sale prices of new homes reasonable for cash or on time payments."

"Municipal expansion of public utilities and street improvements are adequate. Many new school houses are being built. Pavements are in fine condition and streets are well cleaned. The city has good police and fire department regulations. Have seen very few intoxicated men and no automobile congestions or collisions on down town streets."

I have just returned from a 600 mile boat trip to Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., a wonderful sightseeing trip through Puget Sound and the Straits. The temperature is 45 to 55 degrees with slight variation either way. Only one-half inch of snow has fallen since I have been here. I have enjoyed my winter here very much and shall come again and sample the summer climate. "It's like the Post-Crescent every day and keep in touch with the best city on earth."

Indians Thot Phonograph Was 'Bad Medicine'

So that he might write down correctly the music of the red men, Thurlow Llewrence, composer- pianist, who appears here on Friday night in Lawrence Memorial chapel with Edna Woolley Llewrence, soprano, and George B. Tack, assisting flutist, has recorded the songs on phonograph records first, writing the music and words later. The process of recording alone is interesting.

The singers with their drums and flutes are arranged in front of the recording machine. The leader and the timer of the songs sits in front, rehearsing the singers, humming low, before each record is made. After recording a song it is reproduced for the singers, to find out if it has been correctly made. The interpreter also keeps the operator in touch with the singers to indicate whether they are pleased or not, for it is not as easy as one may imagine to record the songs. At one time the Indians thought the records were poisoned and "bad medicine," but after understanding that all was well and that their children could hear their voices long after they themselves were dead, they were pleased.

Thurlow Llewrence has spent 20 years among Indian tribes of North America, has collected musical instruments and studied Indian life so that the program presented here on Friday night represents the best in Indian melody and customs.

Farmers' co-operative organizations throughout the country did a business totaling approximately $2,000,000,000 in 1923, the United States Department of Agriculture estimates.

The wealth of the American people has tripled itself since 1900. It is conservatively estimated now at $275,000,000,000. Optimists figure it around $300,000,000,000.

Getting Ready for Tomorrow

THE average man, busy with his own affairs, has little time to consider the vast amount of anticipatory work necessary to maintain a high standard of service in the petroleum industry.

Just as the merchant buys straw hats in November and furs in early summer, so does the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) prepare in winter to supply you in summer with the gasoline and other petroleum products you may need.

Today, this Company is spending millions of dollars to purchase crude oil and to convert this oil into refined products so that next summer it may meet its obligations to supply the demand for gasoline and other petroleum products when pleasant weather makes motoring attractive and agricultural activities necessary.

Such an effort takes on greater significance when it is known that the production of crude has been checked sharply.

The American Petroleum Institute reports that from September 8 to December 15, 1923, the production of crude oil fell off 337,400 barrels per day.

This brings production to a point where it is 56,700 barrels less per day than the estimated daily average consumption.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is preparing in advance to meet any demands which may be made upon it. It has a tremendous investment in storage facilities, located strategically throughout the territory it serves. ACRE OF ALFALFA WORTH FOUR TIMES AN ACRE OF OATS

Waukesha Farmer Is Strong Advocate of Alfalfa Raising on Farms

BY W. F. WINSEY

A farmer's expense in raising an acre of oats is, plowing $2, seed $2.50, interest on investment, $6, threshing, $2; taxes $3; total $15.50. At threshing time last fall the price of oats was 40 cents a bushel. The average yield per acre in Outagamie county last season was 45 bushels to the acre. At that average yield and price, the value of the oats was $18.75. Subtracting expense of raising the oats from the value of the crops gives the farmer a profit of $2.50.

The expense of raising an acre of alfalfa is, for 3 tons of alfalfa $75; Grimm's alfalfa seed, $1.50, inoculation, 25 cents, total $14.50. An acre of alfalfa produces on the average 3 tons of hay valued at $25.00 per ton, or $75.00.

With oats at 50 cents a bushel for $75, the value of an acre of alfalfa hay, the farmer may buy 150 bushels of oats. One acre of alfalfa is, therefore, worth as much as four acres of oats. Moreover, as alfalfa seedling lasts six years it costs only $1.00 a year on the average to seed with alfalfa.

Millions of dollars have been spent the past year for poor cow feed. Instead of raising oats and buying poor cow feed, farmers should buy soil feed and raise alfalfa. A crop of oats exhausts the fertility of the soil while alfalfa improves the soil and fits it for succeeding crops.

The above are a few of the figures used and the statements made at the farmers' institute in Seymour on Feb. 28, by P. G. Schwartz, Waukesha farmer, one of the first growers of alfalfa in Wisconsin and one of its most vigorous promoters in a two-hour lecture before a packed house.

Before Mr. Schwartz had finished his audience knew why he had started raising alfalfa on his farm 21 years ago, why he has continued raising it to the present time, the comparative feed value of alfalfa, where alfalfa can be raised to the best advantage and how to raise it successfully.

For two hours, Mr. Schwartz portrayed the changes in living, farming, and cost of living since the first settlers came to Wisconsin and the difficulty each generation encounters in adapting itself to new conditions.

"For 50 years, all the livestock on our farms had a mighty poor living," asserted Mr. Schwartz. "The animals never had one good feed, of the best hay that grows. Lots of the stock on the farms today doesn't know what good feed is. You had better get some alfalfa hay and give your livestock at least one good feed while you have them.

"My father went to farmers' institutes, took an agricultural paper, and got bulletins from experiment stations but he did not start raising alfalfa. As a rule, we do not start new things until we get pinned. When father got pinned, he said one day, 'I guess we'll try some alfalfa.'"

"We watched our alfalfa grow and the neighbors watched it. When the alfalfa blossomed, we cut our first crop. Afterward, we cut a second and a third crop the same year and then a fourth crop grew up. But when we cut our first crop of timothy in another field, that was the end of the timothy that year."

"When we began feeding that alfalfa hay to our cows we began getting more cans of milk than we had ever gotten before. Father got the largest milk check at the end of the month that he had ever received."

"What did we do when I got control of the farms? I imagined a time in the future when I could have alfalfa hay in the barn for all the livestock on the farm."

go and that the freight rate on a ton of alfalfa from Montana to Chicago was $22.

"When I returned my brothers wanted to know where we were going to raise alfalfa. My reply was, 'Right here on the old farm. We must find out what is lacking in the soil that the alfalfa plant needs.' We knew nothing about inoculation of seed, but we saw a crop of sweetclover thrive on the roadside."

"We conceived the idea of fertilizing the field in which we intended to sow alfalfa with the soil from the roadside in which the sweet clover was growing luxuriantly. As a result the alfalfa grew as rank as did the sweet clover. Later we found that the dirt we used as fertilizer had been inoculated by the sweet clover and limestone ground to dust had been blown over and covered the ground on which the sweet clover grew. Inoculation and lime are important factors in the production of alfalfa. After we found out what to do, we coated other prospective alfalfa fields with dirt from the sweet clover patch.

"When we decided that lime was one of the elements that we were getting from the roadside that alfalfa needed, I ordered a car load of wood ashes and two car loads of ground limestone shipped to us from Wauke-

200 CARS OF WOOD FOR VALLEY MILLS

More than 200 carloads of pulpwood were distributed among the pulp mills of Fox river valley this week, the Interlake Pulp & Paper company receiving a large share of it. Other mills receiving large quantities were those of Thilmany Pulp & Paper company at Kaukauna and the mills at Kimberly and Combined Locks.

Most of the wood for the Interlake Pulp & Paper company arrives at Appleton Junction over the Soo line and comes from the northern part of Minnesota. A large portion consigned to the other mills is shipped from northern Wisconsin and Michigan. Phil Gaudette, formerly of Kauka-sha. From that time on we had no trouble in raising alfalfa. We found that lime makes a nice sweet home where alfalfa can live and grow.

"Feed your cows, sheep, horses and pigs to build up the framework of unborn calves, lambs, colts and pigs and produce sturdy young that all people enjoy seeing." Mr. Schwartz said. "Growing young livestock also needs the lime that alfalfa contains to build the framework of their bodies. Feed these animals alfalfa."

Time to Face the Facts

"So much has been said against the use of patent medicines that I have had a strong prejudice against them. But after four years doctoring with six different doctors, without results, for acute indigestion, gastritis, constipation, appendicitis and other ailments, I was said to possess, I was encouraged to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, seeing what it had done for a friend similarly afflicted. I also was entirely relieved of my trouble, and am sure this medicine will do all and more than is claimed for it." It is a simple, harmless preparation, that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. DEMAND HIGHEST GRADE PRODUCT TO GET GOOD RESULTS

Farmers Told of Useless Materials Found in Low Grade Fertilizer

Recommending the use of a high analysis fertilizer, Lee VanderLinden of the Apple Creek shipping association Tuesday evening, showed the farmers that they could save 80 per cent of the cost of commercial fertilizer by either mixing the ingredients or demanding a higher grade article of the manufacturers.

The meeting was called in the interest of farmers using commercial fertilizer. It was held in Stammer's hall, Apple Creek, and was attended by approximately 100 farmers. R. A. Amundson, county agent, also was in attendance.

PROCESS IS SECRET

Large fertilizer concerns are keeping the manufacturing process of commercial fertilizer a secret, the speaker said. The 16 per cent acid phosphate fertilizer contains 1,560 pounds per ton of sand and other useless filler. Only 440 pounds of the ton contain actual plant food. In other words, out of every 16 bags of fertilizer that make up a ton, 12 bags are sand, plaster paris and other forms of waste, and only four bags are actual plant food, he said.

On that overhead charge per ton of fertilizer, the manufacturers usually list $3 for freight, $2 for the bags and $3 for miscellaneous overhead expense, or a total of $8 as overhead cost of handling useless material. The approximate cost of 16 per cent acid phosphate fertilizer is $20.

Mr. VanderLinden contended that the manufacturers can eventually eliminate 80 per cent of the cost of manufacture by throwing out the useless material.

BUY BY QUANTITY

The reason for this waste, according to the speaker, is the demand of the farmers for a cheap fertilizer. Consumers will buy by quantity rather than quality just as in the case of milk, but the volume is no indication of the value. Another reason is that the fertilizer concerns built large plants at a great cost during the war period, and these plants necessarily carry a large overhead. One plant in East St. Louis built a $2,000,000 plant and yet shipped only 30,000 tons a year. The interest charge increases the overhead $5.50 on each ton.

That farmers can save money by doing their own mixing is seen in the case of Peter Kreier, well known potato grower of Antigo, who is one of the largest fertilizer users in the state. He mixes 300 tons a year. But by using the 10-16-14 analysis last year instead of the 5-8-7 analysis the year previous, he saved more than $7,000.

Of the 8,000,000 tons of fertilizer sold in 1921, only 1,300,000 tons was plant food, the remainder being what Mr. VanderLinden termed "junk." He called attention to the fact that one big meeting of fertilizer manufacturers, one representative said that last year his company had lost $13,000,000 on bad accounts on fertilizer sold to cotton farmers in the south. This loss had to be carried in part by the farmers of the north.

ENGLISH COURT BUILDING HAS DIFFERENT "BARS"

By Associated Press

London—Many American visitors and most English people know the law courts and have at some time or another visited the admiralty, divorce, probate and other divisions to hear interesting cases, but few know of the existence of various "bars" within the buildings which are properly licensed for the sale of intoxicants.

The biggest of these is the Crypt Bar, where all sorts of lavmen and legal authorities congregate during lunch time and where as many actions have been settled between solicitors' clerks as those which come before the judge. There is a tiny little bar reserved exclusively for officials of the court, who boast they have the best "draught" ale in London, while another caters to the staff and police when the latter are off duty.

The refreshment department of the courts is large but provides homely fare.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

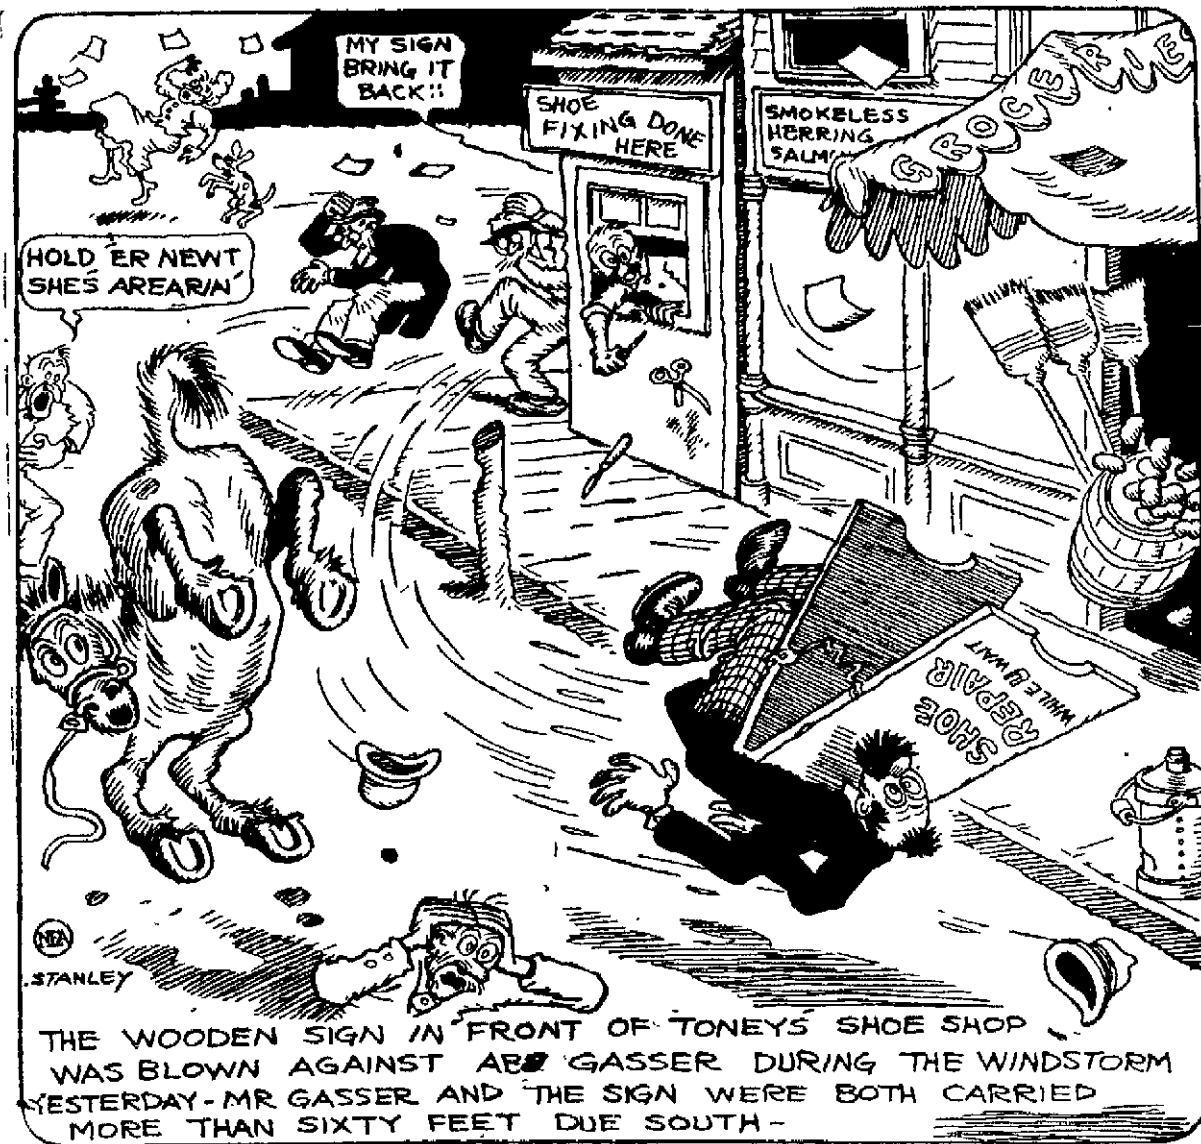

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

ROTARIANS STIR CONVENTION 'PEP' AT REPORT DINNER

Wives Are Guests at Musical Program and Talks by Committee Chairmen

More "pep" was put into the preparations for the Tenth district Rotary conference here in April at a dinner of Appleton Rotarians and their wives at Conway hotel Tuesday evening.

The evening was devoted to a musical program, and reports by Lee C. Rasey, conference chairman and the chairman of the various committees.

One would judge from the manner of giving reports that the work for the big convention was more of a lark than a wearisome task. The serious facts beneath the locality of the speakers, however, indicated that all of the various factors such as entertainment, recreation, transportation, amusement and others were making good progress.

SINGERS APPEAR

Community singing following the dinner was led by Carl McKee. So los were sung by Miss Lucille Meusel and there was a duet by Mrs. William H. Nolan and Mr. McKee. Numbers also were furnished by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Carl J. Watson, Mrs. Nolan, Mr. Waterman and Mr. McKee.

An impromptu double quartet also sang. It consisted of Mrs. Nolan, Mrs. Arthur Schell, Mrs. Irving Zuelke, Mrs. H. K. Pratt, Carleton Saeker, Dr. E. H. Brooks, W. S. Ford and E. H. Harwood. They were given an ovation.

WOMEN WERE CURIOUS

Women's curiosity to know what their Rotarian husbands were doing and what this "conference stuff" was all about was voiced in a cleverly prepared letter read by Mrs. Leslie Sensenbrenner. There were hints in letters arriving in Rotary homes, she said, that the husbands were expecting to have a glorious time with the visitors. She asked the Rotarians to please explain what it all meant.

It devolved upon Mr. Rasey and the chairman of the subcommittees to "explain." This they did with a good sprinkling of humor, indicating just what their work would be after

DEFENDANT WINS IN $150 DAMAGE SUIT

Hugo Sturm Wasn't Responsible for Accident in Which Car Was Damaged

Verdict for the defendant was returned by the jury Tuesday in circuit court which tried the case of Fred Beyer vs. Hugo Sturm for damages to the plaintiff's automobile as a result of a collision on the Lake-st last summer.

The plaintiff asked for $150, but no damages were allowed.

SWEDES DEVISE METHOD TO DRY NATIVE WHEAT

Stockholm—A new contrivance for counteracting the destructive influence of damp weather on the grain production of Sweden is a grain drying apparatus. It is believed that the use of this machine will not only prove economical to flour millers, but will at the same time have a definite effect on the importation of wheat from America. Swedish mills have in the past found it necessary to blend American wheat with Swedish in equal ratio, but by drying native wheat with this apparatus only 30 per cent of American wheat will be required for the blend.

The machine consists principally of four rotating cylinders with tubes for the circulation of the grain, to which warm air is applied.

THE railroads pay taxes direct to the state and national governments amounting to about 6 1/2 cents out of each dollar earned.

THE railroads pay their employees wages out of which the employees pay taxes both direct and indirect.

THE railroads buy material from the manufacturers who pay taxes both direct and indirect.

ECONOMISTS have figured out that one dollar in every eight of the nation's income is paid as taxes.

THE indirect taxes are approximately equal to the direct taxes.

THE direct taxes paid by the railroads plus the direct taxes paid by their employees, together with the indirect taxes paid by both, are equivalent to considerably more than one-eighth of the railway operating revenue.

IT would be more nearly correct to say that out of every dollar paid the railroads for transportation, twenty cents, or more, eventually finds its way through the various channels of taxation into the coffers of the governments national, state and municipal.

Has Your Husband Got Indigestion?

Nothing creates domestic discord quicker than an attack of indigestion, and nothing gets rid of indigestion quicker than Bisurated Magnesia. No man can be sweet tempered, good natured or even fair minded when his stomach is constantly sick, sour, gassy, and upset with after-eating distress. If your husband has stomach trouble neither scold nor pity him, but help him by seeing that he has a supply of Bisurated Magnesia (either powder or tablets) constantly at hand. A teaspoonful of powder or two tablets taken in a little water after meals will instantly neutralize the acids in his stomach that are causing his trouble, and he can enjoy his meals with no more fear of indigestion. Bisurated Magnesia is the special form of Magnesia used by thousands to neutralize stomach acidity and quickly overcome indigestion—do not confuse with Milk Carbonate, Block or Citrate of Magnesia. Insist on Bisurated. Its action is safe, prompt and sure and it can be obtained at small cost from any reliable drug store.

What is KOHLER of KOHLER

A FEW miles inland from Sheboygan on the Falls road lies the Village of Kohler, where many of us live who work in the great Kohler factory near-by.

If you could see this village of ours you would realize that there is much more to this business than the things we make; than the Kohler Enameled Plumbing Ware for your bathroom, or the Kohler electric plants that light so many Wisconsin farms.

Kohler of Kohler means a background of character and sincere good purpose. It means a soil fertilized by ideals and aspirations, where men and women engaged in industry may take friendly root and thrive.

We are even prouder of Kohler Village and what it stands for than we are of all the fame that our products have won in many lands.

Churches In Appleton

Give $28,000 Annually

For Missions, Charity

Large Budgets for Religious Extension and For Benevolences Are Raised Here Every Year.

Practically every church in Appleton does a portion of its work in the mission field and more than $28,000 goes out from this city for home and foreign missions. Some individual projects in mission work are financed by the churches, but most of the work is done through the home and foreign mission boards of the various denominations.

Home mission work includes contributions to hospitals, orphanages, seminaries, struggling churches and societies which are furthering the work which the denominations favor. One church in its budget lists in its distribution of benevolent gifts, home missions, foreign missions, general board of education, ministerial relief, church erection fund (Negroes), temperance evangelism public and Sunday school work, men's work, sabbath observance, army and navy chaplains' American Bible society, Anti-Saloon league, Lord's Day alliance and women's colleges in the Orient. This is a representative list of donations and includes practically all of the activities.

MAINTAIN CHAPELS
Many of the churches maintain chapels for the students at Madison and include donations to this in their mission funds. Most of the churches have a mission fund in their budgets and this fund is turned over to the governing boards. Others take monthly collections for mission and all others use the duplex envelope in which a contribution for missions is made each Sunday.

The Methodist church mission budget in Appleton amounted to nearly $10,000 in the past year. The foreign missionary budget was $575 and the home mission budget $625 while the centenary budget for missions was $7400. The women's societies employ representatives of the foreign and home missions in the foreign field and the home mission society has two representatives in the south. The latter also maintains a free bed in the deaconess' hospital at Green Bay and the Christman offering of the church is always given to the Green Bay hospital. The

J. B. class is sending a girl through school at the Ritter home in Georgia.

THREE MISSIONARIES

Three missionaries are employed by the Congregational church and the benevolent budget of that church amounted to $2,500 last year. Miss Marion V. Cuthbert is one of the missionaries and she is employed as assistant director of Burrell Normal school for Negroes in Florence, Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Leeds Gulick who have been stationed at Kyoro, Japan, also are employed by this church. The Women's union of the church raised more than $1,100 during the past year and half of this was given to missions. The amount for benevolence has been raised to $4,000. The budget of the Presbyterian church for 1923 was $1,197.78 for benevolences. This included all forms of missionary work and the support of all organizations in which the church is interested. The amount for home missions was $432.35 and for foreign missions $375.87. Practically all of the churches have missionary societies which study conditions in the foreign fields besides giving money for the spreading of their faith.

$5,000 FOR MISSIONS
Catholic churches in Appleton give approximately $5,000 toward mission work. St. Mary church supports a Little Mission school, St. Martin school, at Kingville, Tex. in the Corpus Christi diocese. Monthly collections which aggregate of $1,000 during the year are taken by the young women of the parish before and after the services on the second Sunday of each month.

In general the Catholic missionary work is handled through collections authorized by the bishop in the diocese. These collections include those for the Negro and Indian missions, the seminary, the orphans the Holy Land, the pope, the bishop and the poorer churches in the northern part of the Green Bay diocese. The money collected for both the pope and the bishop is used for the furtherance of church activities. The amount given in these collections by St. Joseph church is around $1,300 and by the Sacred Heart church, $300. St. Joseph and St. Mary churches have missionary societies which raise money and which make various kinds of church linen. The Missionary Association of Catholic Women has a way of supporting young men from foreign countries who wish to study for the priesthood.

WORK THROUGH SYNODS

Most of the mission work of the Lutheran churches is done through their synods which apportion the benevolences according to the various needs. These include foreign and home missions along with the many organizations of the churches. Mount Olive and St. Paul churches pay $1,615, and approximately $1,000 respectively to their synod. St. Matthew church gives $350. It has a newly organized mission society. Zion church and the First English Lutheran church have regular mission festivals and their Sunday schools give money through the duplex envelope system. Zion church gives about $600 yearly while the smaller ones give $300. At the latter, the children in the Sunday school give money for scholarships in India, $25 being enough to send a child through school for a year. Trinity English Lutheran church uses the duplex envelope every Sunday and its missionary contributions include the work for foreign and home missions, and clothing is sent to be distributed by the Lutheran council. The women's organization sells laces which are made by the women in India, and also sends money to India so that the laces may be made. The quota from this church is $500.

IN CHURCH BUDGET

The amount given by All Saints Episcopal church during the past year was something over $312. This amount being included in the church budget. Collections for missions are made in the Sunday school during Lent and advent, the latter being used for the Episcopal mission at Oneida. The Women's auxiliary of the church packs missionary boxes each year.

St. John church sends about $400 to missions, which is about 30 per cent of the church's general quota. Emmanuel Evangelical church spends about $1,000 yearly for missions and it has various missionary activities carried on by its women's organization. The Reformed church uses the duplex envelope each Sunday and its quota for missionary purposes is $150 per member with a total of $432 sent to its mission board last year. It has special mission collections, one in February for foreign missions and one on Easter and in November for home missions.

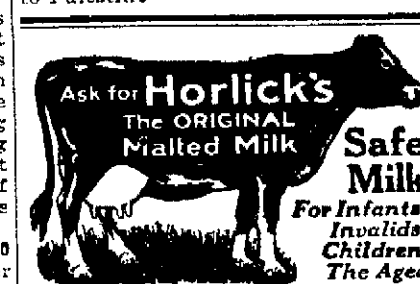

SUPPORT ORPHAN

The Baptist church gave $1,300 to both foreign and home missions during the past year besides giving $13 to the Japanese and giving $30 to the Armenians and pledging $150. The Ladies Aid society is supporting an orphan in Armenia. The German Methodist church takes its mission-ary collection the first Sunday in every month. It contributes about $300 to missions during the year.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, gives money for general church purposes but it does not handle it as the mission funds in other churches are used. The money is sent to Boston and used by the board there. This is not a regular fund nor quota so no figures were available.

The Seven Day Adventist church gives money for its mission every Sabbath, but the first Sabbath is designated as missionary day for the home missions. The yearly amount of these contributions could not be determined.

Jewish churches also make contributions similar to the Christian church and most of the money is sent to Palestine.

What you can do with the Traffic Transmission

Change Speeds Without Clashing
Because it represents the solution of the gear shifting problem, this exclusive Chandler feature is generally acknowledged to be the most important automotive improvement of the decade. Be you a veteran driver or an unschooled beginner, you cannot clash gears—cannot fail to make a split-second, positive, silent change to any speed at any time under any conditions.
There is nothing new to learn. You use the clutch and shift lever exactly as before. Only the results are different.
Descend Steep Grades in Safety
Until the Traffic Transmission was developed, the safe descent of a long steep hill was a matter of luck or expert driving. In the Chandler it is now neither.
Regardless of car or motor speed, a three inch movement of the lever puts you into second speed or low—brings the combined compression of six cylinders into instant braking action. No danger of failing to get into gear. No riding the brake pedal or burning out brake linings. That is real safety—the comforting kind.
Park Easily and Swiftly
There is a trick to parking neatly, or there was until Chandler made it easy.
With the Traffic Transmission you never fumble to get from low to reverse—you never hear the gears rasp, rattle or whine. You change to the desired speed at will—the lever moves at a finger's touch. What used to take three minutes of expert maneuvering, now takes twenty seconds in a Chandler.
The steering wheel is partly responsible. It requires no tugging—turns with the weight of a hand. Women like that.
lower gear. At once the perfectly equalized braking power of the motor stops the car with the front and back wheels tracking.
And if you know that helpless feeling of skidding toward the curb or ditch, such surefooted safety must have a strong appeal.
city that made Chandler the national performance champion.
And as for deep snow or mud—no terrors there! Two or three short, snappy shifts from low to reverse and out you roll before you stall.

LETTER FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO HER FIANCE,
RICHARD SUMMERS

Received your wire asking about my health this morning, dear Dick. I have not written you because your last letter mystified me. I can't understand why you should have gathered from anything that I have written that I am prejudiced against this young woman whom you call Miss Perier.

It is perfectly natural that I am not able to get into the "atmosphere" (that is what you call it in Hollywood, isn't it?) of the moving picture colony. I have never in all my life as you know met any artists belonging to that set which we call Bohemia. Consequently, however much I try, I do not seem to be able to get your point of view.

Neither can I understand why it was impossible for you to tell Miss Perier that you were working so hard to be able to bring me out there. Is it because you, too, as well as she, were unconsciously working "to forget"?

I don't believe you really know me, Dick, and I have come to the conclusion that I do not know you at all. Before you left for Hollywood you told me that I was almost too broad in my ideas because I insisted that there should be only one standard for both the sexes, and now you say "You are too conventional." Your life is bounded by too many rules to see any merit in these people who work like demons when they do work and play and laze away the hours when they are not working in a way that I have never known reasonable grown people to do before."

I have always thought, dear Dick, that when a woman loved a man well enough to marry him it was a part of the expression of that love to be content in following him wherever he should go. I did not think it would be necessary for me to marry the whole of the moving picture colony when I married you, although your last letter seems to intimate as much. Of course these people interest me greatly. They interest me as any other part of your work would interest me, but loving you, dear Dick, must I love them also?

No, dear boy, I am afraid that it isn't my temperament and my likes and dislikes that you are considering so much as your own. Please don't say that I am jealous in any way. I don't believe in jealousy, as you know. I consider it an inferiority complex. But I am sure of one thing, Dick, and that is that your ideas have changed materially since you left me. I am not jumping at conclusions, but I am going to wait awhile to let you find yourself before I come to you.

Not because as you say you think I would not be happy there, but because I am not sure that you would be happy to have me there. I want you to be honest not only with me but with yourself.

Until then I am as ever

BEATRICE.
P.S. By the way, did Miss Perier recover entirely from her fainting fit? You finished your last letter to me hurriedly because for some reason no one seemed able in your mind to bring her out of it but yourself.

TOMORROW—Sally Atherton's letter to Beatrice Grimshaw—Paula Perier's story.

"Why, you're not the two little boys I gave my balloons to hold for me," exclaimed the balloon man in surprise.

"I beg your pardon. I wonder where those two little fellows went? One had on a red stocking leg cap and the other had on a blue stocking leg cap. Did you see them?"

"Why we are hunting for them, too!" cried Nancy. "They're wanted at home."

"Well, well, well!" said the balloon man. "I gave each of them a big bunch of balloons and I'll have to have them back pretty soon. What do you say if we all go and hunt? Come along! They can't be far a way!"

Art Museum Paves Way To Child Fame

Removing of Obstacles Helps School Children to Expose Their Talent

Cleveland.—The road to artistic fame isn't half as rough as it used to be.

Obstacles heretofore impeding the onward march of youthful genius are being rolled aside by the big city museums.

Here in Cleveland, for instance, at the Museum of Art, 28,000 public school pupils—some only fifth graders are learning to appreciate things really cultural and esthetic.

With their teachers they come to hear the histories of famous old paintings and the stories of the struggles of old Venetian and early American masters.

In the old Roman garden, there's a sampling of tiny shoes over the discolored tiles which once resounded with the pita-pat of the Empress Livia's sandaled feet.

Amid stately palms, replicas of those that were strewn along Jerusalem's streets the day the Nazarene came in to celebrate the passover, these 20th century youngsters breathe the atmosphere of Caesar's day.

IDEAS IN EMBRYO
Childhood dreams are revealed to ready listeners. Here is a boy who wants to be a great painter; a girl who aspires to become a pianist of renown, and a lad who has hopes of some day being another Borglum, Saint Gaudens or Taft.

Miss Anna V. Horton, supervisor of children's work and her assistants, Miss Katharine Gibson and Miss Emma Main, are quick to single out these juvenile prodigies.

When a child displays any exceptional aptitude, he is transferred to one of the special classes. These meet every Saturday morning for an hour's study under the direction of Mrs. Winifred H. ABLE.

A stereotyped print is flashed across the big white sheet on the front wall in the darkened classroom. There's a rustle of paper, and 40 little heads bob down and 40 little hands start sketching outlines of forgotten orientals tapestries or other works of art.

Mrs. Able's classes are limited to 40. But there's another group of 40 alternates.

All are striving for scholarships, nearly a score of which are given each year by the Cleveland Art Institute.

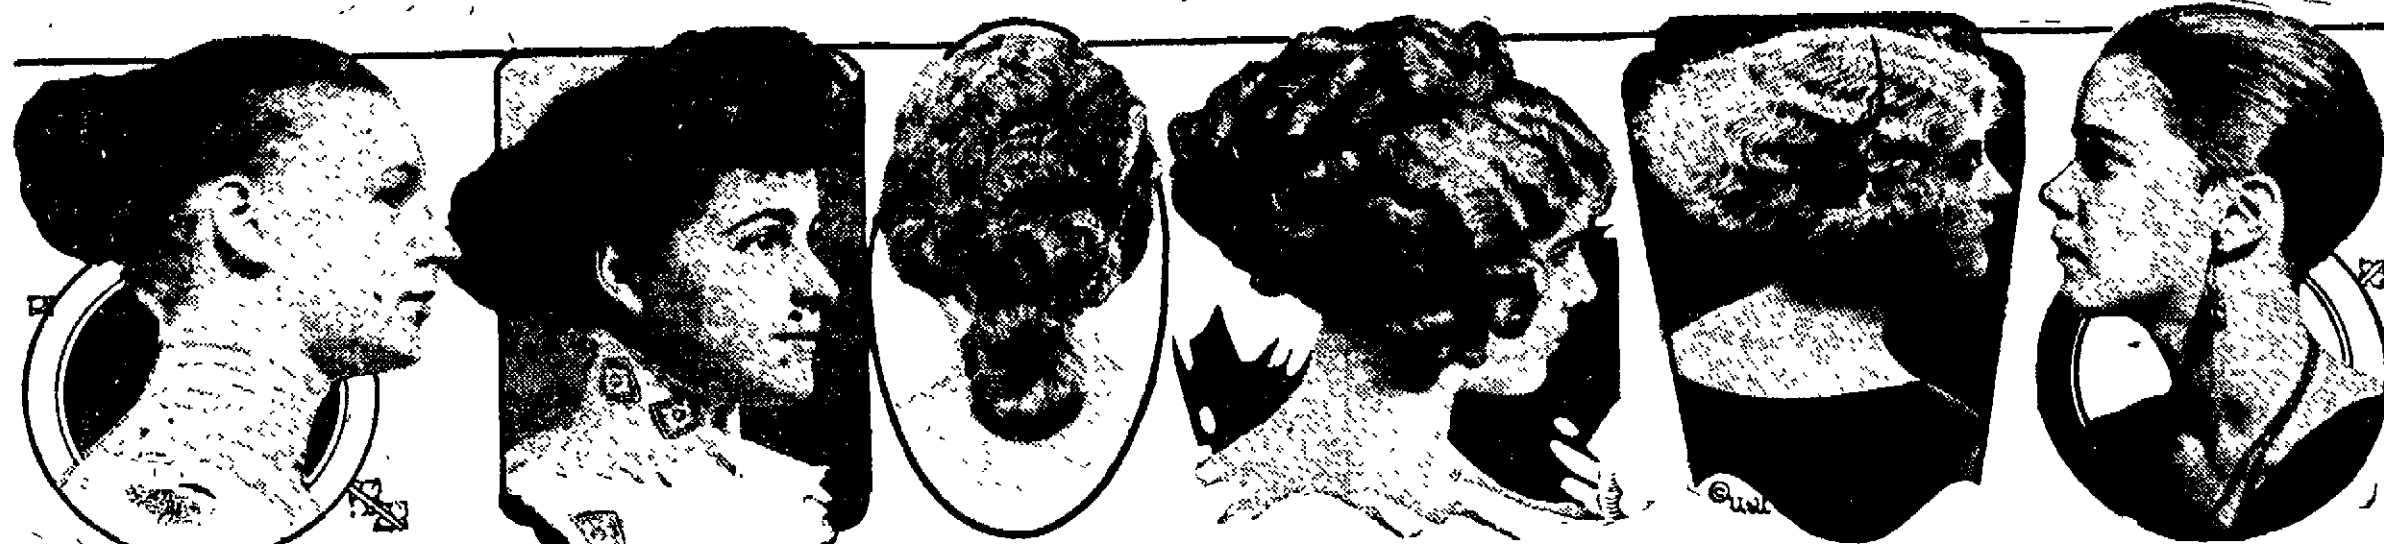

FUTURE "MASTERS"
It is to the winners of these—and winners of similar awards in other cities where the same work is going on—to whom America is looking for its master painters, sculptors and musicians of another generation.

"Of course, all these thousands of children are not destined to attain fame in the arts," Miss Horton says. "But they at least will have a finer conception of the beautiful and worthwhile."

"To them in the years to come, the museums will not be just forbidding structures of brick and stone, but places wherein they may find relaxation and enjoyment, after the care and worries of a busy day."

HAIR STYLES CHANGE MUCH IN QUARTER CENTURY

But Look Closely And You'll Notice Reversion To Old Styles

FROM THE PSICHE TO THE BOB, THERE'S QUITE A VARIETY OF HAIRDRESSING MODES, BUT THE PHOTOGRAPHS ABOVE SHOW HOW EVEN OUR WHIMS WHIRL ABOUT IN CYCLES OF TIME.

Why all this talk about bobbed hair? Just take a peak at what we've left behind in hairdress, and you'll notice there's not so much difference between the coiffure of today and that of a quarter of a century ago. In fact, there's quite an improvement.

Behold the first and last of this array. Exactly alike, except for that psychic which the modern flapper has bobbed off. The ears showed then. The hair was slicked back. And not an earring—or a tiny one, at that—to improve the appearance of the profile.

The big revolution in hairdressing happened when the psyche was unloosened and rats, puffs and other false paraphernalia wound into the coiffure. It took time for the ear to hide itself, but by the time the famous "figure eight" came along, no sign of that appendage could be observed.

Then came the day of glory for hair dressers. Curls, maulle waves, puffs, pompadours. The fourth picture from the left gives an idea of how far they went. It was their day of days.

Then came the revolt of the flapper and the hair dresser was met with such problems as that presented in the fifth picture. He rained glorious with all sorts of ways to dress up bobbed hair, until the flapper finally has taken it out of the artist's hands and is beginning to dress her hair "a la masculine."

The flapper little realizes she has reverted to the old style—except for the psyche.

She Spends Millions Annually For Others

NEW YORK.—Three million dollars a year pass through the hands of Mrs. Brueggeman.

But don't jump at conclusions. She's no spendthrift. She is one of the most level-headed and capable women in the country.

It was for these qualities that the late President Harding appointed her chairman of the United States Employees' Compensation Commission, making her the first woman to head such an independent government body.

Her work concerns 600,000 federal employees and involves the investigation of every case of injury or death of an employee on duty and the awarding of compensation to him or his survivors.

"I worked two months on my first case," she says. "and my first adverse decision kept me awake nights for a week wondering if I might have been mistaken. My cases are never abstract to me. I get tremendously interested personally in the women and the children who appeal for aid, and who so obviously need help regardless of the legality of their claims."

One of the hardest phases of her work, she finds, is to keep humanitarian motives from overbalancing technical evidence.

"The largest number of compensation cases coming up now for adjustment are those that deal with bootleggers and liquor smugglers," she says. "Prohibition enforcement is the most hazardous occupation in the United States today."

Mrs. Brueggeman is from St. Louis, and before politics and affairs of state occupied her mind she was prominent there socially. She has shown so much ability in organizing and leading women that there is little possibility she will ever be allowed to return to home life.

"And I shouldn't want to," she asserts. "The day is coming when more women are going to be appointed to responsible positions in the government, not for the sake of getting a woman's point of view or playing up to the woman's vote, but because women are qualified for the work and can bring it to the intelligence, judgment and humanity it needs."

Plaited Effect Used In Lingerie

Nightgowns, chemises, combinations and pantaloons are short, and are built on straight lines. The high class models are invariably of silk—crepe de chine, silk tulle, or washable satin crepe. Lace, notably, Ponce lace and drawn work are extensively used as trimming.

Plaques, plastrons, pockets and monograms appear on lingerie of all types.

Rose pink is the most in favor, in the high class as in the cheaper grades, but white silk underwear trimmed with deep cerise lace is well regarded. Plaited effects in nightgowns, chemises and combinations are featured in the cotton as well as the silk end.

All pantaloons are cut so wide as to form short skirts.

An average of 19 tons of ice is required for the refrigeration of a car load of fruit in transit between southern California and the Atlantic seaboard.

Modern Girl Asks Suitor With Ideals

University Questionnaire Reveals County Is Not "Going to the Dogs"

(From the Woman's Home Companion)

Great is the debt which the nation owes to its fearless and confident youth. Just as we decide that the country is going to the dogs comes a statement from a composite body of upstanding young people and the fog of pessimism lifts. Such was the effect of a questionnaire filled out by young women students of sociology at the University of Minnesota, who were asked to enumerate the qualities in men which make them desirable suitors.

"Moral cleanliness" and a "spirit of chivalry" led the list, which also included "moderately good looks," "athletic tastes," "good health," "optimism and good nature," "social training" and "respect for religion."

The modern girl has been accused of materialism, yet these young women, representing the farm, small town and city life of the great middle west, do not count wealth as an essential to married happiness. But they do emphasize an appreciation of the good and beautiful in life. The consensus of opinion of worldly goods calls for a small bank account or a steady position to allow a comfortable existence with a small state of luxuries.

There has been a great outcry against feminine worship of motion picture idols, yet the replies to this questionnaire indicate that the well balanced girl believes in keeping the Rudolph Valentino and the Jack Holts where they shine best—on the screen. In the home, the "modern" girl good looking young man promises to be more dependable and more companionable and far more vital and his health and his morals.

The pessimists declare that the youth of today have deserted the faith and the God to whom the founders of this nation turned for guidance, yet every one of these girl students inserted "religious" or "respect toward religion" on her list.

Go into your smaller cities, visit our state universities or colleges of agriculture, tour our rich agricultural sections. In all these sections one will find American traditions, American principals flourishing as of old.

BY MAURICE HENLE

New York.—Marion Davies has progressively forged her way to the front rank of motion picture actresses because producers of her films continue to surround her with first caliber performers.

Thus in her latest, "Tolanda," one finds Lyn Harding, Holbrook Blinn, Maelyn Arbuckle, Johnny Dooley and Leon Errol. Combine these finished actors with the most elaborate sets I've ever seen, and the result can't help from being meritorious.

As in "When Knighthood Was In Flower," Miss Davies is forced to play up to her supporting cast. And she does it in "Tolanda," to the best of her increasing ability. Marion isn't difficult to look at by any means and she has learned, through her constant association with stellar actors, the importance of subtle expressions. "Tolanda" itself is rather tedious.

NO TROUBLE WHEN BABY CAME

Mrs. Crossan Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Dakan Also Tells What This Medicine Does

St. Joseph, Missouri.—"I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I decided to try it as I had had such a hard time with my first child. I took nine bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I never felt better in my life than the day my baby girl was born. I will be glad to tell what it will do, to any woman who will let me know her address."

Mrs. ROSA DAKAN, 2227 S. 11th St., St. Joseph, Missouri.

Back To Normal Health
New Orleans, La.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound while I was carrying my child and I must praise it highly because I never suffered one day during that time and could do all my housework and had a very easy confinement. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound because I have a weakness due to working around the house too soon after my baby was born. But thanks again to the Vegetable Compound I am getting back to normal health once more. I advise any woman to take it." Mrs. A. MEYER, JR., 2019 Touro St., New Orleans, Louisiana.

Not A Bit of Trouble
Wilmington, Delaware.—"I was nervous and weak and not at all regular. I worked in a factory at the time and could not work very much. I was sick over a year, then a friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I started to pick up as soon as I began taking it. Then I took it again before my first baby was born and I never had a bit of trouble. I recommend it highly." Mrs. JANE CROSSAN, 612 Pine St., Wilmington, Delaware.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped many other women just as it has helped Mrs. Dakan, Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. Crossan.

Consider the statements of these women. They give you the benefit of their actual experience with the Vegetable Compound.

A nation wide canvass of women purchasers of the Vegetable Compound reports that 98 out of every 100 have been benefited by its use.

This is a remarkable record and proves the dependability of the medicine for the relief of the troubles women often have.

For weak and run-down conditions so common after child-birth it is well adapted. It strengthens and tones up the system and restores normal health.

The Vegetable Compound contains no harmful drugs or narcotics and can be taken in safety by the nursing mother. For sale by druggists everywhere.

ARCHAEOLOGY HAS MUCH MATERIAL IN PHILIPPINES

Carl E. Guthe, Michigan Scientist, Makes Research at His Home There

By Associated Press
Manila.—Results of the first year of systematic archaeological research in the Philippine Islands now are being classified by Carl E. Guthe, a scientist sent out by the University of Michigan, at his island home in Cebu. The discoveries, which include Chinese as well as native Philippine relics, date back in some instances as much as 2,300 years, scientists believe, and are expected to clarify many points in insular history which have been clouded by doubt.

During the last 12 months the scientist explored caves and ancient burial places on three islands—Mindanao, Luzon and Cebu. Various native skulls and artifacts, he found in their specimens of Chinese arts and handicrafts of the Tang, Sung and Ming dynasties which scientists believe corroborate previous suppositions that for many hundreds of years the Philippines were visited by a succession of Chinese traders who introduced affected the local customs and probably the religion of the natives.

The period of this influence is estimated at 1,000 years, the Tang dynasty having flourished in the seventh century and the Ming continuing until the middle of the seventeenth. There are evidences that Chinese civilization during this time several times flowed over the native culture and was swept back, only to advance again.

Three types of skulls were found by Doctor Guthe. The oldest and most primitive was associated with stone implements only. Some of these implements were polished axes and adzes shaped apparently for working down umbers and other hard stuff. Skulls of a second type were found in association with specimens of a characteristic of unglazed native pottery. Those of the third type apparently much later, were found in burial places enriched with Chinese pottery, bronze and iron implements and jewelry of various designs, mostly of Indian or Japanese origin. These skulls were attractively deformed, with flattened foreheads.

Digging in the Pasig river bed to a depth of about 20 feet at a point below the town of Pasig yielded several jade axes and adzes, skillfully fashioned and still with a good cutting edge although more than twenty centuries had passed since the men who wielded them turned to dust. Two of the jade axes were in the possession of Dr. H. Otley Beyer, of the University of the Philippines, are believed to date from the fourth century before Christ.

Philippine anthropologists and archaeologists are awaiting with interest the results of Doctor Guthe's classification and further exploratory activities.

PORTO RICO LAND BANK FLOURISHES

San Juan, P. R.—Seventeen hundred applicants for loans totalling more than $5,000,000 have been made to the Porto Rico branch of the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore during its first year of operation, according to Albert D. Boardman, acting manager.

Of the applications received more than 800 have been approved for the full amount asked for. There have been few rejections. Loans are now being made at the rate of $300,000 a month.

Loans have been made in almost every municipality of the island, and although coffee growers have been the most numerous among the borrowers, farmers producing almost every crop grown in the island have obtained financial help.

The first year's experience has convinced the bank, which operates under the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, that the farmers of Porto Rico are "industrious, ambitious, honorable and deserving of all the benefits the island's richest assets, her farms and farms may go on to their fullest development."

CANADA WILL GET SWEDISH NATIVES

By Associated Press
Gothenburg.—The first regular direct passenger traffic between Scandinavia and Canada will be established by Sweden early in 1924. The first vessel in the new service will be the S. S. Stockholm, which will carry passengers direct from Gothenburg to Halifax, thence proceeding to New York.

There has been an unusually large exodus of Swedish emigrants to the United States since July 1, and it is reported that the full quota of about 20,000 allowed for the fiscal year will be practically filled by next January. A great number of Swedes who would be shut out from the United States until the latter part of the next calendar year are now evidently going to seek their fortunes in Canada.

Oil Lease Attorneys Prepare Their CasesGERMANS AVOID PAYING RENTS TO FOREIGNERS

By Associated Press
Berlin—Foreigners who bought real estate in Germany for speculation in the days before the government legislation against transfers of realty to non-Germans are in a state of constant uncertainty.

Some foreign owners do not even try to collect the rents, which are fixed by law and are so low that the number of paper marks realized would not meet repairs. But while many foreigners do not bother collecting rents they also fail to make repairs. Such repairs fall upon the tenants if they desire to have them made.

German tenants have had practically free rent for such a long period that there are great complaints when any charges of any sort are forced upon them in connection with their lodgings.

IF RHEUMATIC
BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry. Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins. Dried acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

o'clock Wednesday morning at her home, 726 Lawrence-st after an illness of four weeks. Mrs. Boyd has been one of the most prominent women in Appleton society during the entire 60 years of her life in this city. She was married to Samuel Bord at Rochester, N. T., in 1864, coming to Appleton immediately to make her home. As the wife of one of the most prominent attorneys in this part of the state, Mrs. Boyd became one of the leaders in Appleton social life.

Four children survive: Mrs. John King, Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. Curtis Bynum, Asheville, N. C.; Robert Boyd, Chicago and Charles Boyd, Appleton. There are five grandchildren. The funeral will take place at 2:30 Friday afternoon. Dr. H. B. Fea, body will be in charge. Burial will be made in Riverside cemetery.

Line Upon Line of Loveliness

Once your figure assumes that rippling line-upon-line effect of softly blending harmony, you have everything there is to have in figure proportions—

And once you wear a Modart Corset you have just that.

You are made snug and smart: supported a trifle where you need it. But so gently does the Modart light boning and perfect design do these things that you are all but unaware of this dainty garment.

We have a service to offer you. It is known as "Figure-Grooming." To avail yourself of this service just step into our corset department. One of our corsetiers will study your individual figure tendencies and will recommend the Modart that is best suited to your special requirements. There is no charge for this service nor the slightest obligation to purchase.
